

Teen Summer Reading Program

POPULATION: ONE ESCAPE BOX

In northeastern Nebraska, you'll find the small town of Monowi: the only town in the United States with an official population of one. The only resident, Elise, lists herself as the town mayor, bartender, and librarian.

You have been sent to Monowi by the Library of Congress to help her save her library. She believes that what is needed to save her library is locked inside her safety deposit box. Unfortunately, she's forgotten the lock combinations.

Join us to solve puzzles and find clues to open the safety deposit box and help Elise save the library!
